

Internship Application

Interns of the WNY Young Writers' Studio are high school Studio fellows whose efforts, accomplishments, and dispositions distinguish them as role models for other young writers. The ideal intern candidate is a young writer who intends to pursue a career in the field of education. Interns will be invited to work as mentors to younger writers during all Studio sessions, under the close supervision of Angela Stockman.

Responsibilities:

- Interns are expected to complete three hours of training prior to serving as an intern. This will be scheduled on a half day during the week of July 5th-9th. It will be held on the grounds of the Kenan Center in Lockport, NY.
- Interns are expected to attend all sessions within the elementary program, and they are expected to maintain solid attendance within their own secondary level program. Interns must arrive on time to all sessions. Tardiness and repeat absences will be unacceptable and may result in removal from the internship program.
- Interns are expected to publish articles in at least ONE of our newsletters within the 2010-2011 season.

Interns may choose to attend Studio on scholarship for one calendar year, and they will receive letters of recommendation and certificates upon completion.

Four internships will be available beginning this summer:

- Two placements will be made at our Amherst location, which will be held August 9-13th or August 16-20 (in addition to retaining Sarah Hanson)
- Two placements will be made at our new Lockport location, which will be held July 12-16th at the Kenan Center

Please state your preferred location, should you be placed as an intern:

I permit my child to act as a WNY Young Writers' Studio intern. I understand that internships require the completion of a three hour pre-training session and service within the grades 2-5 Studio program. Interns may attend their own Studio sessions on scholarship, as long as they fulfill their service obligation and maintain their good standing as participants of the Studio. I have read and agree to support my child in meeting their responsibilities, as outlined above.
